Another Two Homes Underway in Parkland Estates

Parkland Estates, a 74-lot subdivision located at the corner of W. 2nd Street & Lakeview Boulevard in the City of North Platte, now has a total of four (4) homes currently under construction. Dana Point Development Corporation has begun the construction of two more homes in addition to the two started last month. Added to the seven (7) completed homes there will now be a total of eleven (11) in one of North Platte's newest subdivisions.

The Parkland Estates subdivision was developed by Dana Point Development Corporation in conjunction with the Lincoln County Community Development Corporation and the Nebraska Department of Economic Development. The neighborhood offers a landscaped entrance with an attractive brick and wrought iron fence and development signs. Parkland Estates is being developed with a sense of community and offers homeowners amenities which include porches, future walking trails and a location that is adjacent to a future City park.

"Homes in Parkland Estates are moving better than expected and these two new homes will be a nice addition to the subdivision. One will have a 100% brick exterior while the other will be a mixture of brick and hard board siding," commented Matt Thomas, President of Dana Point Development Corporation.
